The Narrowboat “Life in Slow Motion”

Life In Slow Motion is a 57ft narrowboat with a traditional stern and all home comforts for an extended stay for two to four people.

Starting at the bow, there is an area external to the entry point with seating and lockers.

You step down into a lounge area with wood walls and a multi-fuel stove.

The galley has a four-burner stove, separate oven and fridge plus space for all the necessary cooking utensils and groceries you might need to enjoy a good cooking experience on board.

There is also central heating throughout the boat.

The bathroom has a shower, washbasin and cassette toilet.

Next there is a bedroom with a fixed double bed. Hanging space is also available here and there is also storage.

Stairs lead out onto the stern

. The engine is a Vetus 40 horsepower, well able to travel the canals and charge the engine and heat the water via the calorifier.

So... where will you take her?
